

The 21st
Black Engineer of the Year Awards Conference

Enroll Now!

Baltimore, MD
 Feb. 15-17, 2007

Last Updated: Jun 29th, 2006 - 17:11:12

Check E-Mail | Archives | About Us | Blog | SUBSCRIBE

Friday, June 30, 2006

US Black Engineer Magazine

Automotive News

Awards & Lists

Diversions

Diversity Watch

Job Horizon

On Campus

On Campus

One-on-One

People and Events

Plugged-In

Professional Life

Publisher's Bookshelf

Recruiting Trends

RSS FEED

Special Reports

The Next Level: Entrepreneurs

Up Front

Listen to our PODCAST
 Just click the Pod icon

Quick search

Type search term(s) for articles, places or events,
 then hit enter

Technology News and Information

US Black Engineer and Information Technology Magazine provides black technology news and information about black engineering, black entrepreneurs, black engineers, black education, black technology, black minorities, Black Engineer of the Year Awards (BEYA), and historically black colleges and universities (HBCU) from black communities in US, UK, Caribbean, and Africa.

Plugged-In

Coppin State brings home International award for innovative wireless technology

Coppin State University - the first school in the University System of Maryland to go wireless campus-wide- was awarded the 2006 "Best Practices in Mobile and Wireless award for implementation of its wireless network at Computer world magazine's Mobile and Wireless World conference in Orlando, Florida, May. Coppin State beat out notable international finalists such as Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem, N.C., the U. S. Postal Service in Washington D.C., Globe Telecom in the Philippines, Airport Authority of Hong Kong, China and Dubai eGovernment in Dubai. This recognition is the culmination of back-to-back awards for the university's giant strides in IT in partnership with Nortel, one of the largest telecommunications companies in the world.

Jun 29, 2006, 16:53

Plugged-In

Black

Churches turn to technology to spread gospel, attract members

Black churches across America, long dependent on word-of-mouth to fill their pews, are turning to technology to reach a broader audience, energize their evangelism and attract new members, church leaders say. Nearly 1,000 churches across the U.S. have signed up to a web-based marketing tool to attract new members. Curtis Green, president of Find Me A Church dot-com says, "We are in the age of information and gadgets - cell phones and laptops and Blackberries and all other sorts of tools ... About time the church community caught up with the times and marketed themselves using the latest technology." www.findmeachurch.com

Jun 26, 2006, 11:51

People and Events

Ninety-two scholarships to be awarded at 2006 National Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators conference

Ninety-two scholarships will be awarded at the 2006 National Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators (NASFAA) conference to be held at Washington State Convention & Trade Center in Seattle, July 5 - 8.

Jun 26, 2006, 11:00

People and Events

Michael R. Pack, P.E., joins HDR

Michael R. Pack, P.E has been appointed as Marketing Manager of HDR, an employee-owned architectural, engineering and consulting firm, according to a press release. In this role he will be involved in business development of engineering, planning and surveying services for the Atlanta, Georgia-based office. HDR has more than 130 locations worldwide. Pack comes with 30 years of engineering, marketing and management experience in both private and public sectors. His experiences include planning, design and construction management of airport and public infrastructure projects throughout the United States and U.S. Virgin Islands.

Jun 22, 2006, 14:22

People and Events

Howard G. Adams to be honored at GEM @ 30

Howard G. Adams - a 1996 recipient of the U.S. Presidential Awards for Excellence in Science, Mathematics, Engineering and Mentoring - will be honored at the 30th anniversary gala at the 2006 annual conference of The National GEM Consortium, or the National

Member Login

Email:

Password:

New User? Sign Up

Forgot password?

Search

Advanced Search

Articles older than two issues are available in our Archives back to 1990.
(free search and retrieval)

Interested in Advertising?

BlackEngineer.com provides news and information about black technology, black engineering, black entrepreneurs, black education, black minority, black engineer of the year awards (BEYA) and historically black colleges and universities (HBCU) from black community in US, UK, Caribbean and Africa. Find out more about your reader demographics, web-traffic and valued added client services. Click here to contact us

Consortium for Graduate Degrees for Minorities in Engineering and Science, Inc. Proceeds from the awards banquet at the InterContinental Hotel on the Magnificent Mile in Chicago, Illinois, June 28-30, 2006, will benefit GEM's endowment and support graduate fellowship awards.

Jun 20, 2006, 14:00

People and Events

American Society for Engineering Education in Chicago

Engineering educators and students will meet to present their research, exchange ideas, and interact with their colleagues and industry counterparts at the 113th Annual American Society for Engineering Education Conference & Exposition in Chicago, June 18-21, 2006. The ASEE Annual Conference and Exposition is committed to fostering the exchange of ideas, enhancing teaching methods and curriculum, and providing networking opportunities for faculty members, deans, and industry representatives interested in furthering engineering education.

Jun 13, 2006, 17:08

On Campus

2006-

2007 Black Scholarship Guide

Looking for scholarships? Be sure to pick up the 2006-2007 Black Scholarship Guide targeted to African American students. The print and e-book directory published by Diversity City Media is a comprehensive source for the top scholarships and grants Black students are eligible for. The book provides tips and advice on applying for scholarships, and information on all 105 historically Black colleges and universities (HBCUs). Order a book at www.BlackScholarshipGuide.com

Jun 13, 2006, 10:42

More Headlines